

Lindsey E. Gage

Lindsey was raised in western Massachusetts and decided to be a teacher during the fifth grade. After graduating high school, she attended Bennington College in Vermont, pursuing her Bachelor's Degree in History and Teaching. While at Bennington, she spent a term teaching English as a Second Language in Lima, Peru. After graduation, she enrolled in the Master's in Teaching Program at Bennington College and completed a year of student-teaching at Bennington Elementary. Upon finishing her MAT, she moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico in 2006 where she teaches at Christine Duncan Heritage Academy, a free public charter school that focuses on Bilingual Education and hands-on learning.
